10. Workshop

A. Waste Hauling Update

Lorie Gillis, Deputy City Manager, and Rachael Kuroiwa, Manager of Communications – Infrastructure, reviewed this item with council and said that the City team is continuing efforts to implement Council direction for organized waste hauling. Efforts over the past two weeks have included a robust update to the Arvada Sustainability Advisory Committee, securing additional communication capacity, completing drafts of City of Arvada and Republic Services co-branded communication pieces, meeting with representatives from Republic (Waste Hauler) and Schaeffer (cart provider), notable contact from residents, along with several internal planning/logistics meetings. In order to keep Council updated on the ongoing work, and to address Council questions and feedback, the City team presented current information regarding Communications, Default Cart Size and Minimum Service Fee.

Council members asked several questions and offered comments regarding the information that was presented.

Next Steps: The Arvada team will provide regular updates to the City Council regarding organized waste hauling to receive feedback in the course implementing this new initiative. Feedback from this Workshop will be factored into decisions and actions associated with the continued implementation of organized waste hauling. Additional workshops will be scheduled in the next few months.
