6. Recognition and Communication –

Councilmember Jones said that tonight are recognizing Justin Andrade, a graduate of A-West and Adams State University in Alamosa, Colorado. Justin, who ran cross country and track for Adams State, decided to embark on a journey in memory of his friend Cameron Holland. Cameron died in a car accident in Arvada on December 7, 2019 at the age of 17. He was a high school senior just five months away from graduation. Justin and Cameron had been friends since elementary school. Shortly following his death Cameron's family decided to start the Cameron Holland Scholarship and asked for donations in lieu of flowers. In the spring of 2020, the family partnered with The Denver Foundation to administer the Scholarship.

Following Justin's graduation from Adams State, he decided to embark on a journey in memory of his friend by running 280 miles over seven days, from Alamosa to his home in Arvada to raise money for the Scholarship Fund.

He set out from Alamosa on Memorial Day, May 31, and arrived home in Arvada the following Sunday, June 6 averaging 40 miles per day, refueling with one candy bar and one bottle of water per hour. From Alamosa, Justin ran over La Veta pass (elevation 9,426') in the Sangre de Cristo Mountains of south-central Colorado to Walsenburg, Colorado. Heading north from there he passed through Colorado City, Pueblo, Colorado Springs, Monument, and Sedalia before reaching the Denver Metro area to complete the final legs of his journey through Littleton, Lakewood, and into Arvada. Staying with friends along the way, Justin would go to bed at 7 p.m. each night, waking at 4:30 a.m. each day to beat the heat. Some days he ran long stretches alone while other days he had support from other runners, bikers, or friends driving along the route.

Upon his return, Justin was welcomed by family, friends, and the community as he ran the home stretch along the Ralston Creek Trail to Cameron's roadside memorial sign near W. 72nd Avenue and Indiana.

Justin raised over $7,000 for his ultra- marathon-like efforts, with another $3,300 pledged for the Cameron Holland Scholarship Fund. Cameron's family deeply appreciates the donations and is in awe of Justin's determination and strength to run nearly 300 miles across the ranging Colorado landscape to raise funds for the Scholarship.
